

ANN ATKINS

Justice, Leadership and Social Responsibility

Program and book signing with author Ann Atkins

Eleanor Roosevelt ~ Unleashed

A life of Soul Searching and Self Discovery

Ann Atkins

Justice, Leadership and Social Responsibility are the themes of Eleanor Roosevelt's life. Weaving together Eleanor's personal struggles and public life, Ann Atkins' presentation renders Eleanor's journey as relevant and inspiring for any audience.

Ann's appearances have included: National Press Club, Fox News TV, International Women's Day in Washington D.C. as well as Universities, Library Lectures, Book Clubs and Civic Groups around the United States.

SUMMARY: In a childhood fraught with troubled wealthy parents, Eleanor carries her altruist heart into a marriage of appeasing Franklin and a grand dame mother-in-law. When this house of cards crashes Eleanor sets a new course. Challenging the status quo of society and her family, Eleanor takes her exuberant style to the White House as First Lady for thirteen years. Using her influence she champions for Human Rights and withstands the media backlash when Justice includes Jews, Blacks and women. Eleanor earns her title “First Lady of the World.”

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Ann has lived and worked in Korea, England and Germany as a counselor, college instructor and director of a family support center. Her master's degree from Boston University encompassed studies at the University of Cambridge. Ann's Flash History Biography series has reached international shores and covers: Eleanor Roosevelt ~ Unleashed, Golda Meir ~ True Grit, and Marie Curie ~ A Nobel Life (2016). Ann lives in Philadelphia and is currently working on a novel, Crucified (2017). For more information and to contact Ann go to: www.FlashHistory.com or Ann@AnnAtkins.com

*“We do not have to become heroes overnight.
Just one step at a time...”*
— Eleanor Roosevelt